

Curriculum Vitae

Lois Labrianidis Executive Director Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences. Emeritus Professor of the Department of Economics at the University of Macedonia. He is an economic geographer (BA – Aristotelian University of Thessaloniki 1977, MA - Sussex 1978, Ph.D. - LSE 1983). He was the scientific coordinator of major funded research projects. His scholarly publications include more than 80 papers in peer reviewed journals and 14 books including: (2024) (co-editor) Seeking the Other Road: Strategies for the Development of the Greek Economy. (2022) (co-author) The geographic, scientific and professional mobility of Greek Ph.D. holders. (2021) (coauthor) Brain drain in Greece. (2021) (co-author) Do we want development? (2016) (co-editor) Spatial development and human capabilities. (2011) Investing in leaving: The Greek case of international migration of professionals. (2008) (co-editor) Thessaloniki in transition. (2008) (co-editor) The Moving Frontier: The Changing Geography of Production (in English). (2004) (co-editor) The future of Europe's rural peripheries (in English). (2001) (co-author) Albanian immigrants in Thessaloniki. (2001) Economic Geography. (1993) Regional universities in Greece. (1995) Visiting Professor, School of Geography & Environment, University of Oxford. (1993, 1995) Visiting Professor Department of Geography & Environment, London School of Economics (LSE). During the period 2015-19 he served as Secretary General of Private Investment of the Ministry of Economy and Development.